PORT DRAYAGE

We provide drayage of full container load (FCL) shipments between the Port of Charleston and any regional destination in the U.S., including Averitt transload facilities, third-party locations, inland port facilities, or directly to your dock.

Save money and clear customs quicker by shipping containers directly by rail to our inland PortSide® operation in Greer, S.C. for more far-reaching drayage. Additionally, we'll identify cost-effective combinations of road and rail options such as trailer on flatcar (TOFC).

At our state-of-the-art International Distribution Center in Charleston and facilities across the region, your freight can be transloaded to traditional trailers or prepared for final delivery with a selection of value-added services.

If space is an issue, save money and resources by taking advantage of our wide range of storage capabilities. We offer secure warehousing across our network of distribution facilities and service centers. Any length of time. No contract. No problem.

With more than 40 years of inland distribution and supply chain experience, we'll seamlessly move your cargo from the Port of Charleston throughout North America.

You'll save on both time and money with award-winning supply chain services that are not prepackaged but are actually designed to meet your needs. Have your products on store shelves faster with a DC Bypass strategy or streamline regional deliveries through pool distribution.

Professional, flexible and backed by the strength of The Reliance Network of carriers, Averitt PortSide® Services will have you Thinkin' Red.
